MIRTH MOCKED JUSTICE.

And Joy Held High Carnival In This Courtroom Last Evening.

Mirth mocked justice, and courtroom dignity and decorum were scandalously ignored in Howland hall last evening when "The Famous Soup Case" was tried before a crowd of 225 people who frequently vented their amusement at the ridiculous legal travesties attempted by judge, jurors, barristers and all. The affair was held under the auspices of a circle of the woman's guild of the Church of the Good Shepherd and the men who assumed the different roles in the piece were highly successful in making the occasion profitable as well as entertaining.

"The Famous Soup Case" was written by Rev. Charles H. Wells, well known by many people in Barre, and the manner in which it was presented last evening was all that could be desired. The proceeds, amounting to a considerable sum, will be devoted to the work of the woman's guild.

The personnel of "The Famous Soup Case" follows: "Mr. Quick," district attorney, N. J. Roberts; "Mrs. Dusenbury," the deaf complainant, A. W. Allen; "Hilda," her maid, Leigh McWhorter; "Brannigan," the waiter, S. N. Parker; "Officer Foley," who made the arrests, Stanley Marsh; "Mr. Hardcastle," witness, Waldron Shields; "Mrs. Hardcastle," witness, F. W. Robinson; jurors, F. G. Howland, foreman, W. Anderson, M. Patterson, H. Smith, J. Long, J. Loughheed, J. W. Vaughn, George Mitchell, A. Cruickshank, M. Rogers, J. Robins, M. Cutler, A. Cole.

A short musical program, adding variety and not a little enjoyment to the affair was carried out as follows: Piano duet, Misses Coburn and Tomasi; baritone solo, George Mackay; song, Miss Dale; mandolin and piano, Misses Dale and Reid; tenor solo, George Mitchell.
